

1154. 1155 Columnae miliariae duae, rep. a. 1812 near the high road between Cambridge and Huntingdon, nearly three miles from Cambridge BIDEN. Altera pila (a) est paene quadrata, alta ped. 2 dig. 6, lata ped. 1, diam. p. 3 dig. 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; altera (b) alta est ped. 2 dig. 8, lata ped. 1 dig. 3, diam. ped. 3 dig. 3, sed infra tantum scripta. Under the left hand archway leading to the University schools BAB. Nunc in porticu exteriore musei Fitz-William.

a IMP CAES
FLAVI
COSTANTINO
V L E
p. C. 317/336
5 C O N S T
A N T I
N O P I O
N O B C A
F

b
L I S S I
M V S
CAESAR

Contuli. Henry L. Biden gent. mag. 83, 1813 I p. 524 tab. 2 fig. 6 et 7; Ch. Babington Cambridge antiquarian society 2, 1853 p. 23 s. 71 ubi etiam E. D. Clarkii exemplum exhibetur.

3 C . . . ANTINO Clarke, C . . . ANTINO Bab. 4 V . LEG Clarke, VLEG Bab.

Titulus omnino confusus, in quo lapidarius patris Constantini nomina cum filii Constantini iunioris videtur male coniunxisse. b fortasse Constantis erat aut Constantii iunioris; ut cum n. 1153 quattuor Constantini filii videantur ibi fuisse honorati.

1156 Said to have been dug up at Chesterton near Peterborough GENT. MAG. 1786. Found in the west part of the moat, i. e. on the east side of Bridge Close, in Chesterton lordship, Huntingdonshire, south of the river Nine GENT. MAG. 1795. Castor, rep. in effossionibus institutis in Normangatefield ARTIS, fortasse errore. Servatur Cantabrigiae in collegio Trinitatis; litteris perbonis. Est columna vel potius pila quadrata alta ped. 5, crassa supra 13 ad 10 dig., infra 14 ad 10 dig.

IMP CAES
M ANNIO
FLORIANO
P F INVICTO
5 AVG p. C. 276
M P E

Descripsi; D. H. gent. mag. 56, 1786 p. 1034; M. G. gent. mag. 65, 1795 p. 741 'copied from a memorandum, dated March 22, 1785, by the Rev. Mr. Kellart, forty years relict of Water Newton, co. Huntingdon; R. Gough in schedis Oxoniensibus; Kennet Gibson fifth journey of Antoninus ed. I p. 269, ed. II p. 164; Artis Durobrivae tab. 15 fig. 2 (inde Newton p. 109, 27d; ex hoc Wright the Celt p. 354; Henzen 5554).

6 Numeri equidem nihil enotavi praeter 1, sed puto me errasse, cum describerem sine exemplo; 1 gent. mag. 1786, L Gough et gent. mag. 1795, LI Gibs. et Artis.

1157 Kempsey (Worcestershire), rep. c. a. 1818 near the kitchen garden of the parsonage farm.

VAL · CONST
ANTINO
P FE IN VICTO
5 AVG

E. M. Rudd assoc. journ. 4, 1849 p. 312 et archaeol. association, Worcester meeting p. 261 ss. (inde Jabez Allies Worcestershire p. 58).
[D(omino) n(ostro) Fl(avio)] Val(erio) Constantino p(io) fe[l(ice)] invicto Aug(usto)

LXX. VIAE CAMBRIAE.

In multis Cambriae comitatibus viarum vestigia detecta sunt (cf. inter alia Archaeol. Cambr. 1, 1845 p. 419 ss.), ut supra dixi (p. 43); omnium vero descriptio accurata et tabula geographica adhuc desiderantur. Pertinent huc itinerarii Antoniniani itinera duo, quorum alterum ad oram meridionalem et deinde in Cambriae parte orientali collocandum est

(p. 482, 9 ss. 484, 1 ss.), ad quod referendi sunt tituli n. 1158. 1159. 1160 et deinde n. 1161. 1162, alterum a Deva Segontium in ora Cambriae septentrionali (itin. 482, 5—8), ad quod pertinet n. 1164. Qui restat titulus n. 1163 videtur pertinuisse ad viam orae occidentalis Sarn Helen dictam ab accolis, cuius in itinerario nulla est mentio facta.

1158 Port Talbot, prope Neath, Glamorganshire; servabatur in the Harbour office. Pila rudis, in cuius parte postica postea inscriptus est titulus christianus hic iacit (sic) Cantusus pater Pau[l]inus.

IMP C FLA VA
L MAXI
MINO
5 INVIC
TO AV
QVS p. C. 308/313

Gent. mag. 13, 1840 p. 304 et 14, 1840 p. 296; G. Grant Francis original charters cet. of Neath, Swansea 1845 8. (inde archaeol. journ. 3, 1846 p. 274; assoc. journ. 2, 1847 p. 287; Wright the Celt p. 456; Westwood Archaeol. Cambr. ser. III 2, 1856 p. 251. 320, gent. mag. 11, 1861 p. 39).

Imp(eratore) C(aesare) Fla(vio) Val(erio) Maximino invicto Augus(to) Quamquam Maximinum Dazam etiam Flavii praenomen assumpsisse aliunde ex nummis titulis non videtur constare, tamen per se nullam habet offensionem. Idem valet de Galerio Maximiano; neque vero puto male lectum esse Maximini nomen pro Maximiani.

VII

1159 In Port Talbot rep. una cum columnis vel pilis duabus similibus, quarum tituli legi non potuerunt FRANCIS. The Gordian stone was brought from Aberavon, after a voyage into Swansea bay, as ballast in a pilot boat KNIGHT.

IMP C
M A GOR
DIANVS
AVG p. C. 238/244

G. Grant Francis gent. mag. 28, 1847 p. 70, Archaeologia 32, 1847 p. 443; H. Hey Knight Archaeol. Cambr. 4, 1853 p. 231.

27